IF ~~If~~ I Could Visit any place it Would be Philadelphia ~~Philadelphia~~ So I can see a Eagle home game, Visit Benjamin Franklin's old home and get an autograph From an Eagle FootBall Player.

If I Could Visit any place it Would be Philadelphia So I Can See a home Football game. One reason is because I like The Eagles. For example the Eagles almost beat the patriots ~~last~~ 2 Weeks ~~Sunday~~ ago ~~ago~~ if it Wasnt For that ~~that~~ interception at the end of the game. Secondly The Eagles have a good quarterback Named Donovan Mcnabb For example he Can throw deep balls and he is Very quick.

Another reason is to get an autograph from one of the Eagles not the band named Eagles. One reason is they play with Donovan and Brian the best players on the team if they didnt have the two players they wouldnt stand against miami. Another reason is they are good at playing football defence they like to sack a lot.

Finally to visit the oldest ~~h~~ school house in usa that is still standing and it was built at benjamin Franklins time. Another reason is to visit the place where benjamin Franklin lived I bet it is really dusty. Finally to visit the place where benjamin worked it is really famous.

That is why if I could visit any place it would be ~~phi~~ Philadelphia. To see a home game get an autograph and to visit the oldest place in usa

Marvelous, magnificent, and wonderful. North Bend, Washington is a place that I want to be everysingle day. I would like to visit there because I have spectacular friends there, and it has the most breath-taking scenery.

First of all, lots of my good friends live in North Bend. Most of them I've known since grade school. One of my best friends lives there and we talk to eachother every day on the phone or just by texing eachother. Every day I miss everysingle one of my friends that I left behind when my family moved to Idaho.

In addition to having spectacular friends in North Bend, the scenery there is breath-taking. Washington is known as the evergreen state, and they do have wonderful and beautiful trees of all shapes and sizes. The endless open land there is almost unbelievable. Washington receivs alot of rain. When it comes though, ~~is~~ it's stunningly beautiful.

In the end, North Bend, Washington is a great place to visit. I want to visit there because I have spectacular friends there, and it has the most breath-taking scenery. There is no place like home, but there is also no place I'd rather be in this world besides being in North Bend, Washington.

Tightrope walkers balance on a rope strung upon the battlements, fire-eaters juggle torches, knife throwers throw knifes at targets, bears dance on ~~their~~ their hind legs people stand bewildered at the sight of all these things. Guards stand fixed around the gate to the ~~castles~~ castles inner wall making sure none of the peasants get into the castle and stoping suspisious ~~people~~ looking people. If I could go anywhere in the ~~universe~~ universe it would be inside a book called inkheart. I would like to go inside inkheart because of the festivals, the Castles and of course to travel with the strollings players to entertain. ~~First of all the festivals with their entertainment and goods.~~

First of all the festival with their entertainment and goods. The festivals ~~with their~~ would be amazing and so much merryment it would be like "a houndrys a bone tree" with the people bartering and talking. To go to the festival would be hectic with the entertainers and the crowds I dont know how people could get to one side to the other at all!

Second of all the castles and their ruins. Going to the castle would be amazing with all the swords hanging off the wall and the and the royalty. Also going to a castle ruins you would never know what you would find or what would find you around the corner. I think that going to the library in a castle would be awsome with thousands upon thousands of books, you could spend a lifetime reading them and couldnt finish all of them.

Last but not least traveling with the strolling players would be incredible even though they are neither rich nor poor. All of the strolling players are happy and proud of what they do even if it dosent pay well. I would like to travel with the strolling players because they are tightly knit and they look out for eachother every time everywhere like at festivals and castles.

I would be in the book I like at because it was a simpler time for people with festivals, castles, and entertainers. I think I would be that house in that bone tree if I were in the story inkheart.

One place that fascinates me above the rest is England. I'd like to visit England more than even Versailles, which is saying something. There are many reasons why England fascinates me but there are three that stand above the rest.

I've read quite a few stories that take place in England and the stories make me wonder what England is really like. I'd like to see the places in the books.

England is among the oldest countries in the world. It is rich in history, which is one of my favorite subjects. England has seen the legend of King Arthur, outlasted two world wars, harbored some of greatest writers of all time and followed strong leaders. From England came America herself. I'd like to walk where my many times great grandfather walked.

What holds the greatest interest to me, however, is Queen Elizabeth I. She is my role model because she achieved many great feats. Her tomb, in England, holds a great interest to me.

One day, I'd like to visit England and see where so many stories took place, walk where legends were born and see where Queen Elizabeth I lived, worked and triumphed. All this fascinates me and makes me want to go across the Atlantic to England.
