

Adaptation is the way that an animal or plant copes with where it lives. Estuary birds such as ducks have oily waterproof feathers. These feathers keep them from getting too wet as they swim and dive for food. These feathers also help them stay warm.