IDAHO JOURNALIST JOINS DEPT OF EDUCATION COMMUNICATIONS TEAM

(BOISE) -- The State Department of Education has announced that Kelly Everitt, a long-time Idaho journalist, has been named to the position of communications specialist for Superintendent of Public Instructions Sherri Ybarra

Everitt has been a professional journalist for more than four decades, the last 26 years as managing editor of the Mountain Home News. He also has background in both radio and television.

“We are very excited to have Kelly join the team and we welcome him to the department,” said Ybarra.

Everitt noted that as a long-time recipient of communications from the department and other state agencies, he understands the needs of working journalists in the state. Everitt will serve with Interim Communications Director Melinda Nothern.

(Note to media: Everitt is the new primary media contact for media inquiries His new email and contact information is listed above.)
