Department Partners to Provide Collaborative Counselor Training Initiative (CCTI)

- The Idaho State Department of Education along with SREB announces that there will be a partnership with Idaho Digital Learning Academy (ILDA) as the Idaho provider of the Collaborative Counselor Training Initiative (CCTI) modules. CCTI is in alignment with the College and Career Advising Legislation; it is a series of professional development modules targeting counselors, administrators, and teachers. CCTI helps schools establish a college and career ready culture within their schools. Participants are also equipped with tools that can help them provide a higher quality level of academic advising to their students. Modules can be taken in any order and are available for professional development credit. Please visit pd.idla.us to learn more about this opportunity.
