I got intrested because I see a lot of people dancing. I wanted to dance too. I realy like to dance. it's fun.

I learned to dance from my mom, she is realy good. None of us go to classes. I don't know where my mom learned to dance so good.

I also see a lot of people dancing. Like at parades, dances at school, home, and there are a lot of places people dance at that I see.

One day I hope I will be a perfect dancer. All the people I see dance Realy made me good at my talent. Like I said before I love to dance.

Many people are good at many things. I am good at playing sports like volleyball. One reason is because I am good at passing. Second, I am pretty good at setting. Finally, I am excellent at serving.

First, I am good at passing. That is because I get the ball high to the setter so the setter can set the ball. I also get the ball to the setter so the setter doesn't have to run around everywhere.

Second, I am pretty good at setting. I get the ball high so my hitters can do their approach and hit the ball. I also get the ball to my hitters so they can have a better hit.

Finally, I am excellent at serving. My servs are hard so they are hard to pass. I also get the ball low so it looks like it is going to hit the net, but it doesn't and it fakes out the other team.

Goodness Gracious Great Balls of Fire!

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh! My eyes search the sky for the new yellow ball that I just tossed in the air. My balance is slipping. The orbs are still flying, almost in slow motion. I find my footing and emit yet another fuzzy sphere into the air. The tennis balls are leaving my hands faster now. I am rushing. Not stopping. Then, one miniature ~~bt~~ globe flys off in an unusual direction, ~~and~~ my juggling act is over. Juggling is ~~something~~ definately something I could call myself an expert at.

First and foremost, to start juggling, it is best if you begin the objective by replacing light ~~scarfs~~ handkerchiefs with balls. After you get the hang of the scarves, go feel free to advance to small, weighted, smooth balls, like golf balls. ~~REMB~~ REMEMBER: do not start juggling knives, chainsaws, or balls of fire until you have prepared for at least one year.

Additionally, juggling takes a massive amount of focus. Catching a ball and throwing it and clasping your hands around another one is not easy. You have to make sure you're concentrating hard on the object you shoot from your hand dominate hand. You should always make sure the ball, or whatever you're juggling can land fairly close to your body. For if you don't, then you will change direction of your eyesight, and, in turn, lose track of the other two articles that you have deserted a couple feet lingering in the air.

To illustrate, juggling is one of my expertise. You can juggle just about wherever or whenever you want. It takes an intense amount of preperation ~~to start~~ and focus to start juggling obscure objects ~~like~~ as in bowling pins or hamsters. But if you practice, you might, just might, get as fantastic as I am.
