Writing into the Day Journal Prompts

“Numbers Tell a Story…..what’s yours?”

- The most important part of problem solving is......
- If math could be a color, it would be___________ because ......
- I want to become better at math so that I......
- People who are good at math....
- When I think of math I think......
- I use math in my life. It helps me to............
- What I learned about problem solving today is........
- Describe your feeling about when you are asked to show your work to others or explain a problem.

Resource: www.ReadWriteThink.org