Step 6: Present your project

Now that you have created an amazing project to present multiple points of view from the Civil War, it’s time to show it off! Create a script to share with others and show off your project. Include your opinion to the essential question, “Who writes history?” Write your script, practice saying it, memorize it, and practice the presentation in front of another partner group. Then you will be ready for our class to share awesome projects with other fifth grade students!

Here are some sentence starters to get you started.

Who writes history?

_______________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________

In what ways were the points of view of the Patriots and the Yankees different?

_______________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________

How did the differences in culture and way of life contribute to the differences of opinion and point of view between the North and the South, especially regarding the issue of slavery?

_______________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________
The North/South felt _____________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________

The North/South wanted _________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________

Now, put your sentences together, work with your partner to create a script for your presentation. Be sure to note who is going to say what.