Based on the text we read in Roll of Thunder, Hear my Cry this week, we think Mildred Taylor would want readers to focus on the topic of
__________________________________________.

We think this because (cite evidence from the text - answer the question “What makes you say so?” and reference at least one significant event, conversations or conflict that supports your group’s claim)
__________________________________________
__________________________________________
__________________________________________
__________________________________________
__________________________________________
__________________________________________

The most significant quote we feel illustrates the importance of this topic in this section is:
__________________________________________
__________________________________________
__________________________________________
__________________________________________
__________________________________________
__________________________________________
The theme statement we feel most reflects the theme message Mildred Taylor is trying to convey in this section is