Some suggested questions to consider when drafting your reflection:

Backwards

1. What has your experience with writing been in school?
2. What was this process of drafting multiple forms like for you?
3. Was the Express and Reflect writing over the past few weeks the same as what you’ve done before or different? How?

Inwards

1. What was frustrating, challenging, new about the writing you did?
2. What did you do well, are proudest of, in your writing? Be specific when you're naming these.
3. What did you learn about yourself and writing when crafting these pieces?
4. What do you want your reader to learn about you through these pieces?

Outward

1. How is your writing (topic, form, etc.) similar to others in the class? How is it different?
2. Did you do your work in the same way with the same effort as others in class did?
3. What grade do you think you should receive for your work? Why

Forward

1. What would you do differently next time? This could be anything from organizing your time, revising a different form of Express and Reflect, asking for more feedback or anything else that you would change, add or improve.
2. In what ways can you use what you learned in other pieces or other classes?
