<th>Answer</th>
</tr>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>What will happen to the Digital Library?</td>
<td>On May 28, we will close the Digital Library’s virtual doors. With the launch of Tools for Teachers, educators from Smarter Balanced member states and territories will have access to a brand new, higher quality suite of tools and supports that were carefully crafted to save teachers time, streamline lesson planning, and help students learn.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Will I still have access to my Digital Library favorites?</td>
<td>No. Tools for Teachers is an entirely new site. We are working to identify some of the most used resources from the Digital Library and re-develop them to meet the qualifications of Tools for Teachers. You may want to consider saving some of your favorite resources by using the download feature.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>How will I access Tools for Teachers?</td>
<td>You will log in to Tools for Teachers in the same way you currently access the Digital Library. Depending on your state/territory, this means you will log in using either a Smarter Balanced account or the account you use to access your state’s assessment portal. Please be on the lookout for more information from your state or territory.</td>

NOW RECRUITING!
Q: Can we test home school students?

A: Yes – you can test students who are homeschooled if you are able to accommodate them in your schedule.

Add them to TIDE with a state EDUID.
Q: Do we have to test foreign exchange students?

A: This is up to you. Foreign exchange students are not counted in participation rate or in accountability calculations.
Q: Can teachers be proctors for the ISAT?

A: Yes- but....

Teachers should not test their own students.
Switch classes, grade levels, content areas
Q: What are teachers allowed to do if they are in the lab while their students are testing? Can they move around or do they have to stay in one place?

A: Teachers can be a great source of encouragement to their students. Wander around – but don’t copy test questions, don’t answer students questions and don’t discuss assessment content in the hallways or in your classes.
Q: Who counts in our participation rate?

A: Students who are enrolled on or before May 1, 2020 and remain enrolled through May 15.
Q: Who counts in accountability calculations?

A: Students enrolled in the first 56 calendar days of your school year
Q: What if students are sick - can we excuse them from testing?

A: A student must be absent for the duration of the test window (all 8 weeks) due to a medical condition that prohibits their participation in the assessment.
